QMMFX LIMITED
Introducing Broker Agreement
English Translation — Part 2 (Articles 5–8)

Article 5 — General Obligations of the Company

5.1. Upon approval of an IB application, the Company may, subject to its available resources and prevailing policies, provide the IB with the following facilities: (a) a dedicated IB Panel; (b) a dedicated referral link or code; (c) access to authorized reports concerning referred clients' activities; (d) information on calculated commissions; (e) a dedicated IB Wallet; (f) access to the Sub-IB structure, where enabled; and (g) Company-approved advertising tools and materials, where provided.

5.2. The Company shall use reasonable efforts to accurately calculate and record eligible commissions based on the information available in its systems.

5.3. The Company may temporarily restrict access to all or part of the IB services for the purposes of security, system performance, compliance with legal requirements, or risk management.

5.4. The Company does not warrant that the IB Panel, website, or other electronic systems will be available without interruption or error at all times.

5.5. The Company may develop, modify, replace, or discontinue the technical structure, facilities, features, reports, and operation of the IB Panel at any time, provided that the IB's final and confirmed financial entitlements are settled in accordance with this Agreement.

Article 6 — General Obligations of the IB

6.1. The IB undertakes to conduct its activities in good faith, professionally, and in accordance with this Agreement and applicable laws.

6.2. The IB shall provide accurate and non-misleading information when communicating with prospective or existing clients.

6.3. Under no circumstances may the IB: (a) promise any specified, fixed, or guaranteed profit or return; (b) describe financial market trading as risk-free; (c) publish false or misleading information about QMMFX; (d) promise clients terms not contained in the Company's official documents; (e) represent itself as an owner, manager, employee, or legal representative of QMMFX; or (f) use the QMMFX name to create an obligation not approved by the Company.

6.4. The IB shall be responsible for the activities of persons under its direct control who act in its name or for its commercial benefit in connection with the QMMFX program, to the extent such responsibility is attributable under applicable law.

6.5. The IB shall notify the Company without delay of any security breach, account misuse, unauthorized access, or suspicious use of its IB Panel.

6.6. The IB is responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of its account and panel login credentials and shall not disclose access information to unauthorized persons.

6.7. If the IB observes or becomes aware of suspicious activity, fraud, abuse of the commission system, or conduct that may harm clients or QMMFX, it shall report the matter through the Company’s official channels.

Article 7 — No Authorization to Provide Financial Services or Manage Funds

7.1. IB status does not, in itself, confer any license or authority to provide investment management, portfolio management, regulated financial advice, trading account management, or to receive client funds.

7.2. The IB is strictly prohibited from receiving, holding, or transferring funds belonging to clients for deposits into trading accounts, investment, asset management, or any related purpose.

7.3. All client deposits and withdrawals must be made directly through the official methods and channels approved by QMMFX.

7.4. The IB shall have no right to access, control, or trade in a client’s account solely by virtue of its IB status.

7.5. This Article shall not prevent the IB or clients from using official PAMM, Copy Trading, or similar services directly offered or supported by QMMFX, provided that: (a) the relevant service is officially available through QMMFX; (b) the client has independently reviewed and accepted the specific terms of that service; and (c) the IB’s activities remain within the rules and official functionalities of that service.

7.6. Any direct receipt of client funds, unauthorized account management, unauthorized access to client assets, or misrepresentation of the IB’s authority may constitute a material breach of this Agreement and may result in suspension or termination of cooperation and other appropriate measures.

Article 8 — General Non-Exclusivity of Cooperation

8.1. Cooperation between the Company and the IB shall be non-exclusive by default, unless exclusive terms are expressly established in a separate agreement or through official Company approval.

8.2. The Company has the right to cooperate with an unlimited number of IBs or business partners in any given country, region, city, or market.

8.3. The Company may, under a specific agreement, grant an IB Exclusive IB status or other exclusive privileges.

8.4. The terms of exclusivity, including geographic scope, duration, performance targets, minimum activity volume, and termination conditions, must be specified separately.

8.5. Extensive activity by an IB in a region or the referral of a substantial number of clients shall not, in the absence of official Company approval, give rise to any exclusive right.